

Camp Catastrophe

SEEKING SASQUATCH!

A CAMP CATASTROPHE ADVENTURE

What's Happening?!

The campers are gathered around the evening campfire, roasting marshmallows and sharing stories, when someone shares a “totally true” tale about Bigfoot sightings near Weeping Willow Lake. When everyone wakes up the next morning, four campers are missing, and so is the walkie-talkie. There’s only one clue: a trail of giant muddy footprints leading into the woods! The missing campers snuck off in search of Bigfoot to get proof and win the Camp Spirit Trophy early. They’re deep in the woods, woefully unprepared, chasing every rustle they hear. Little do they know...Bigfoot does exist, and he is nothing like they expected.

Potential Scenarios to Include:

1. Trail of Clues: The party follows a path of “Bigfoot evidence,” including items like:

- A moldy sandwich “clearly snatched by a beast”
- A pair of muddy flip-flops with the word “BIG” scribbled on them
- A blurry photo of a very hairy raccoon

Suggested rolls: Memory to recall Bigfoot lore, Accuracy to track prints, Shenanigans to sneak past the Head Counselor

2. Into the Woods: The deeper they go, the more chaotic it gets. Odd sounds, tangled vines, and a family of angry squirrels guarding “their” territory.

Suggested rolls: Courage to enter spooky caves, Athletics to climb fallen logs, Shenanigans to distract squirrel sentries

But How Can It End!?:

- The campers return muddy, exhausted, and thrilled.
- The Head Counselor never finds out... unless the walkie-talkie gets turned back on mid-scene.
- Bigfoot becomes the subject of a new campfire song.

Reward: A “Seeking Sasquatch” merit badge—and a stern but fair warning from the counselor about leaving camp boundaries!

3. Camper Reunion: The group finally finds the missing campers... stuck knee-deep in mud, arguing about which direction they saw “movement.” One camper insists they interviewed Bigfoot already but “lost the tape.”

Suggested rolls: Memory to figure out how to un-stick the kids, Athletics to pull them free, Shenanigans to cover for them before roll call

4. The Bigfoot Encounter: Just when things calm down, Bigfoot peeks out shyly from behind the trees. He’s huge, fuzzy, and wearing a “Camp Weeping Willow” t-shirt from 1993. He offers the group a marshmallow as a peace offering, then vanishes into the forest.

Optional: Roll Accuracy to take a blurry photo, or Courage to thank Bigfoot
